GRAMMY Award winning Swedish Rock band Ghost have elevated themselves to one of the most esteemed and celebrated rock bands in the world today. Four consecutive #1 Active Rock radio singles, debuting at #1 (Rock) + #3 (Top 200) on the Billboard album charts, accumulating well over a Billion streams, headlining arena tours (including sold out shows at The Forum in Los Angeles + Barclays Center in New York), opening stadium shows for Metallica, and gracing magazine covers and television screens the world over are just part of their story. The band's passionate fan base and critical praise also stems from their ability to constantly be pushing their creative boundaries. Their most recent album, 2018's Prequelle, is loosely based on The Black Plague of 14th century Europe, a metaphor that sadly became a premonition that applies to the societal ills of our times. Though the band's music at times has dark lyrical content, it never loses its infectious melodic edge. Ghost's massively received recent single, the Active Rock #1 charting "Hunter's Moon," as heard over the end credits of the #1 horror smash Halloween Kills, combined with their current nationwide arena tour, as well as their much anticipated new album IMPERA are all sure indicators that 2022 will be Ghost's biggest year yet. ghost-official.com
